

Creative Forgiveness Exercise

- Through art, word clouds, photography - depict how you felt as the one who committed an offense against someone you cared for
 - Then depict how it felt to be forgiven
 - Similarly, depict how it feels to hold onto resentment and anger and then depict how you would like to feel instead - what would it take to get there?